Special consideration

Applicants who are within 5 points of gaining Fellowship may submit an application to ANZIIF requesting consideration of their individual case. Applicants will need to provide evidence that their circumstances are worthy of review and consideration for the discretionary award of five points. For example, demonstrated exceptional leadership in the industry beyond the scope of what is outlined in the Fellowship Passport. ANZIIF's Fellowship Review Committee has the discretion to review the application and determine whether Fellowship will be granted.

Conditions of eligibility

Prospective CIP Fellows may allocate and combine the points under each category, as relevant to their situation, to attain the required 100 points to be eligible for CIP Fellowship. Members will be required to supply certified documentation supporting their application.

Non-insurance specific qualifications (e.g. accounting and law) may attract points only if they are relevant to the member's insurance job role. CV will need to be provided and assessment will be on a discretionary basis.

Points cannot be counted twice for qualifications gained whereby 50% of subjects are cross credited from another qualification.

~ Points can only be accrued once for undertaking compliance. Similarly, an international applicant can only accrue points once for undertaking other local law and regulation training recognised by ANZIIF.
