INSURANCE INDUSTRY RAISE OVER $18,000 FOR CHILDREN'S CANCER CHARITY AT ANZIIF SOUTH AUSTRALIAN CHARITY LUNCHEON

ANZIIF is delighted to announce over $18,000 has been raised for children's cancer charity Camp Quality, at the 46th Annual South Australian Charity Luncheon.

Camp Quality services and programs are made specifically to help children from birth to age 13 who are dealing with their own diagnosis, or the diagnosis of someone they love, like a brother, sister, mum or dad.

Over the years, the charity luncheon has provided a platform for the South Australian insurance industry to give back to the community through its fundraising activities.

ANZIIF GM Marketing and Events, Mary Orgill proudly presented a $3000 to Camp Quality State Manager (VIC, TAS & SA Kendra Overall.

'I am thrilled that ANZIIF has been able to partner with Camp Quality and to help generate awareness and raise funds for children growing up with cancer, and their families,' says Mary Orgill.

'We are truly grateful for the overwhelming support we receive every year from the South Australian insurance community. It is a very special thing,' she added.

Camp Quality believes in giving every Australian kid facing cancer the chance to be kids again. "We have camps to take kids and their families away from worrying about cancer," says Kylea Tink, CEO of Camp Quality.

'Starting from one-day trips for children aged four to six through to five-day camps for those aged between 10 and 13, the camps let "kids be kids".'

'They can make friends and memories, and take everyday risks that they usually miss.'

'It might be something as simple as going on a flying fox or playing in a sandpit, but being able to finally do it with safe, one-on-one supervision means a lot to them,' explains Tink.

The event was MC'd by Australian Paralympian gold medallist Katrina Webb, who had no doubts when asked to support and contribute to such a great cause. The event is one of the largest insurance networking events in South Australia, and once again displayed a great show of support from the South Australian community.

All funds raised will go to Camp Quality, a registered, not-for-profit, children's family cancer charity, supporting children aged 0 – 13 growing up with cancer, and their families.
